Make US$100,000 per year with Commercial Aquaponics

– By Colle and Phyllis Davis

PLEASE READ THE ENTIRE ARTICLE: CLICK HERE.

One of the most visited pages on our website is Become a Millionaire on One Acre with Aquaponics because more and more people are aware that aquaponics is one of the most exciting 'new' and trending technologies in the Controlled Environment Agriculture (CEA) arena.

Commercial aquaponics is also one of the easiest ways to produce huge amounts of locally grown, pesticide free food that is capable of commanding the highest prices from demanding consumers.

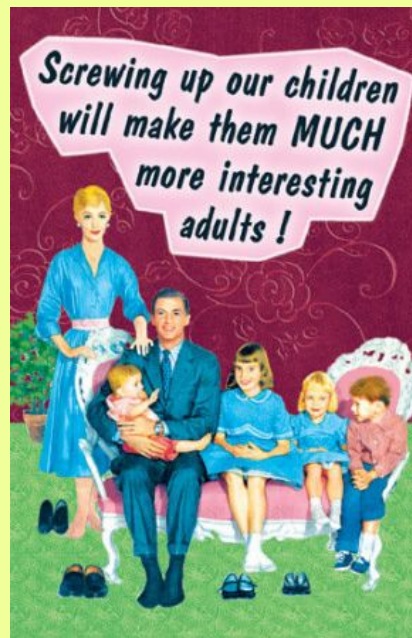

Please read this article to learn the following:

- The capital investment
- The operating expenses for a quarter acre installation
- The cost of the aquaponics technology
- The ROI.

The Net-Net for this example is US$100,000 per year, reaching that level the second full year of operation.

Read More About this New Book

Dear Friends of Portable Farms®:

Prior to bringing Portable Farms® Aquaponics Systems to the marketplace in March 2008, both Colle Davis and I, Phyllis Davis, owned a consulting company and worked with thousands of people over 30 years as corporate trainers, speakers, Senior Level Executive Coaches and trusted advisors and consultants to Fortune 500 companies and startups.

We made our 'bones' in the field of (what we called in the 80's and 90's) the human potential movement that experimented with behavior awareness as a keystone to success.

You may recall the work of Anthony Robbins or Dr. Phil during those early years as they brought attention to qualities of human potential in people's personal and professional lives.

Colle and I continue to work with clients to help them jettison their former lives (their old life, the one without enough fun in it) in the direction of their dreams and for many years, many of our clients have asked us to create a book to share many of our unique techniques with others. And, we've done just that.

Our new book, Conversations with the Unconscious will be available May 12, 2015 (but you can preorder your book today). We have been refining the contents of this book for many years and the time has come to release it. This book is a combination ebook/audio book including audio segments of techniques and trancework for creating instant change in areas of your life that take less than 15 minutes and are a permanent solutions to any major event or feeling you may have in your life.

Is this magic? Sure. Call it what you want, but it's your unconscious mind that will be doing ALL the work. If your conscious mind could have done it, you would already have what you want in your life. Magic or not, this works. We're not therapists and we do not ask you provide us with any private information for our techniques to work.

How to Grow Fruit Trees or Blueberries in Aquaponics

– by Colle and Phyllis Davis

PLEASE READ ENTIRE ARTICLE: CLICK HERE.

In answer to the many questions we receive about aquaponics, “Yes, you can use aquaponics to grow fruit trees and blueberries.”

Growing fruit trees with aquaponics requires having patience, being willing to follow instructions and being flexible in your choice of trees, fish and output. The main difference in using aquaponics to grow ‘fruit’ trees is that the equation shifts from extremely high value real estate (areas in gravel beds is valuable space when placed inside of a climatically adapted structure) to seasonal, outdoor controlled growing. Here are the main parameters that need to be addressed when considering raising fruit trees with aquaponics.

- Pollination. Bees do not do well at all inside buildings. Hand pollination is VERY expensive
- Which fruit(s) should you raise?
- What market is being addressed and can the fruit compete with regular ‘dirt farming’ methods currently used for growing fruit?
- What is to be done with the fish waste water when the trees are dormant?
- What training will the personnel need to have in order to make the aquaponics-fruit-growing-installation most production.

TO LEARN ANSWERS FOR GROWING FRUIT TREES AND BLUEBERRIES: CLICK HERE.

All of these issues have to be addressed before looking at the land to be used for the orchard/vineyard for the fruit. For the moment we’ll assume that the go-ahead has been made to install an aquaponics orchard to raise apricots, a high value crop which does not ship well and is in demand in the local markets. Fruit that travel well (apples, oranges, lemons, and limes) and that can be stored for long periods are not good candidates for aquaponics because the installation costs are too high to compete with current growing methods.

Wendy Keller - <http://wendykeller.com>

Dear Friends of Portable Farms®:

Please allow me to introduce you to my very dear friend, Wendy Keller.

Wendy Keller is a funny, brilliant lady with a laser wit and more charm than the law allows. She is a Literary Agent (in fact, she has been MY Literary Agent since 2003) in Los Angeles, California and owns Keller Media.

As a friend of Wendy's for many many years, it's been an amazing journey for me to see how she handles the challenges in her life because she has already had enough challenges to last a lifetime.

In 1991, on a little country road in England, about 2 days after she, her husband, their daughter Amelia and their son Jeremy arrived for a vacation, her jet-lagged husband didn't look both ways at an intersection. He had stayed up with their daughter, Amelia, the night before so Wendy could rest; and he had had a few beers. A car hit theirs at 65 kph. Amelia died instantly. Jeremy was taken off life support 3 days later. After a very long operation, Wendy emerged from a drug-induced coma in critical condition. The doctors talked about possibly amputating her left leg because it had no feeling in it. She was 26 years old. She had nothing left to live for – no hope, no love, no idea that she would ever be happy again.

Since that tragic day 24 years ago, Wendy Keller has learned the lessons related to loss and grief and over time, she has learned how to heal herself. In her personal process of becoming whole again, her story and wisdom have helped countless others find answers to their own daunting questions that face many of us for finding hope again after experiencing pain, upheavals and personal tragedies.

Please visit Wendy Keller's new website, wendykeller.com to see her listing of videos, books and several webinars that she is now offering to help others move forward to a peaceful future.

Thank you.

JOKE OF THE DAY - A Man Walks into a Restaurant

A man walks into a restaurant with a full-grown ostrich behind him.

As he sits, the waitress comes over and asks for their orders.

The man says, "I'll have a hamburger, fries and a coke," and turns to the ostrich, "What'll you have?"

"I'll have the same," says the ostrich.

A short time later the waitress returns with the order. "That will be $12.40 please," and the man reaches into his pocket and pulls out the exact change for payment.

The next day, the man and the ostrich come again and the man says, "I'll have a hamburger, fries and a coke," and the ostrich says, "I'll have the same."

Once again the man reaches into his pocket and pays with exact change.

This becomes a routine until late one evening, the two enter again.

"The usual?" asks the waitress.

"No, this is Friday night, so I will have a steak, baked potato and salad," says the man, "same for me," says the ostrich.

A short time later the waitress comes with the order and says, "That will be $17.62." Once again the man pulls exact change out of his pocket and places it on the table.

The waitress can't hold back her curiosity any longer.

"Excuse me, sir. How do you manage to always come up with the exact change out of your pocket every time?"

"Well," says the man, "several years ago I was cleaning the attic and I found an old lamp. When I rubbed it a Genie appeared and offered me two wishes. My first wish was that if I ever had to pay for anything, I would just put my hand in my pocket and the right amount of money would always be there."

"That's brilliant!" says the waitress. "Most people would wish for a million dollars or something, but you'll always be as rich as you want for as long as you live!"

"That's right. Whether it's a gallon of milk or a Rolls Royce, the exact money is always there," says the man.

The waitress asks, "One other thing, sir, what's with the ostrich?"

The man sighs, pauses, and answers, "My second wish was for a tall chick with long legs who agrees with everything I say."
